Ridgway Makes Flying Visit To President Rhee in South Korea

GENERAL SAYS EVERYTHING IS LOOKING GOOD

Tokyo, June 26—(AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said today he didn't know what was happening to cease-fire proposals "but things look better than ever."

The Allied commander made the statement on a flying visit to South Korean President Syngman Rhee.

The war flared anew, fanned by new Chinese fighting spirit on the ground and aggressiveness in the air. Red planes twice struck at U. S. B-29 superfort bombers and engaged in two battles with American Sabre jets. One Red MIG-15 was shot down.

Communists fought so stubbornly on the western flank of the 100-mile front one officer said "indications are the Chinese are preparing for an offensive."

Ridgway bore a bulging briefcase when he called on the Korean president. Of the Russian peace bid, endorsed by the Chinese radio, Ridgway said:

"I would want an iron clad agreement. I am not willing to make a bill of goods."

He also visited the front. He said it was just one of his usual trips, "had no connection with anything regarding a cease-fire."

Before he returned, a memorandum came out of his Tokyo headquarters raising official doubts about the latest Communist cease-fire proposal. It questioned the suggestion as a Russian "political move" that might give the enemy military advantage.

There was no cessation of firing on the fronts, ranging from the 38th parallel to 20 miles north of it. But there was no noteworthy change in battle lines.

Attacking Chinese captured a key hill position in an early morning fight near Kunhwa, but were driven off by noon in a U. N. counterattack.

Reds launched a series of probing attacks and raked Allied lines with artillery at scattered points. Some Allied patrols were turned back by bitter resistance and others roamed for miles without finding.

Suspended Police Head in Pittsburgh Blames Drugs for Behavior in Court

Pittsburgh, June 26—(AP)—Judge Sara M. Soffel today accepted the apologies of suspended police superintendent Harvey J. Scott at a contempt of court hearing after he testified he was under the influence of drugs rather than alcohol last Friday.

The judge charged Scott with being drunk and belligerent when he appeared as a witness last week before the state's special grand jury probing vice and corruption in Allegheny county. Safety director George E. A. Fairley later handed Scott an indefinite suspension.

Scott testified at today's hearing that he took the drugs to relieve a nervous condition resulting from an operation on his nose last month. He apologized to Judge Soffel and the grand jurors through his attorney, A. W. Oliver. The attorney called Dr. J. S. Sailing who testified he had prescribed medicine for Scott containing amyltal. Dr. Sailing said each dose contained three quarters of a grain and added:

"That is a big dose." Fairley was asked after the hearing what he intended to do about Scott's suspension. He answered:

"Nothing on that now. We'll wait awhile. We may have a statement late this week or early next."

Midwest Storms Cause Heavy Loss

By The Associated Press
Tornadoes and windstorms struck damaging blows across four states yesterday. Crops, property and livestock losses were estimated at more than $1,000,000.

Tornadoes hit Iowa, Nebraska and Colorado and severe windstorms whipped southern Minnesota. At least five persons were injured. Two small communities in North Central Iowa were hard hit by a tornado.

Sen. Taft Takes Issue With Truman Bipartisan Remark

Washington, June 26—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared today it is an "absolute untruth" to say, as President Truman did yesterday, that this country has a bipartisan foreign policy.

Taft, who heads the Senate Republican policy committee, dismissed without a direct reply Mr. Truman's charges in a speech at Tulsa, Okla., yesterday that the Republicans are "playing right into the hands of the Russians" by conducting a "smear campaign" against the administration.

But the Ohioan—a possible GOP presidential candidate—disputed Mr. Truman's assertion that "we have had a bipartisan foreign policy in this country since Pearl Harbor" and "I would like to keep it that way."

The president went on to say that some Republicans—and he obviously was striking at Taft—"want us to play Russian roulette with the foreign policy of the United States—and with all

St. Louis, June 26—(AP)—Radio station KXOK reported today that Harold Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, will be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952. Star-Studded Color Television Program Is Presented Before a Limited Audience

New York, June 26—(AP)—Color—long just a fighting word in the television industry—has gone commercial.

The Columbia Broadcasting System, whose color system won out over that of RCA-Victor in a battle right up to the supreme court put an hour-long, star-studded color television show on the air waves yesterday.

And seven sponsors paid $1,000 each for one-minute announcements via the new medium, while nine other sponsors paid $275 each just for mention of their products on the show.

But they paid for a limited audience. Color television sets will not be generally available for some months, and even demonstration sets are limited. Ordinary sets need converters to get the color broadcasts in color, and adapters

Special Republican Senate Group Launches New Effort To Solve State's Tax Tangle

Harrisburg, June 26—(AP)—A special Republican senate committee—given a blunt warning of new taxes or cut appropriations—went into session today in a new effort to solve Pennsylvania's tax tangle.

Sen. James S. Berger (R-Pott) called the meeting of the eight-senator "compromise" group as Gov. John S. Fine laid down the ultimatum last night in a radio speech.

The governor said the state is confronted "with a dark, bleak, ominous situation" unless new taxes are levied. Without them, he said, appropriations would have to be cut.

It will not be motivated by animosity or by fear or favor," the governor said. "Where permissible the yardstick of human needs will apply."

One GOP senate leader said the committee's first job would be to determine whether eleven senators opposing the disputed income tax will agree to some other levy.

If such an agreement is possible, he said, then a search may be started for an acceptable new tax.

Another new tax proposal got into the discussion last night—a levy on electric light bills.

Unless new taxes are levied, Fine warned bluntly "I must act under the law and cut appropriations, however painful to me such action would be."

"I will not be motivated by animosity or by fear or favor. Where permissible the yardstick of human needs will apply."

Sen. John H. Dent the Democratic floor leader, arranged to reply tonight to Fine at the same time over the same radio stations. Democrats are opposing the governor's income tax levy as are eleven Republicans.

Fine renewed a plea for passage of his pigeon-holed one-half of one per cent income tax and said the $119,000,000 revenue was needed to balance his $1,220,000,000 budget.

The recommendation, however, Fine said "does not exclude any other tax within the party platform."

"I only ask for more tax dollars," Fine said.

The proposed electric tax would be imposed on monthly electric bills of all users of electricity. The amount of the tax would depend on how much money is needed from such a levy to balance the budget.

to get them even in black and white.

All the same, CBS estimated that 40,000 persons saw the first sponsored color program in television history.

CBS said there are at least 1,000 sets in the New York area alone, that have been home-built or home-converted for color broadcasts. CBS estimated that for the big premiere there were an average of 10 persons watching each of those big sets.

In Boston, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia thousands more watched special demonstrations set up by local stations. One of the viewers, financier Bernard Baruch, called it "a vast improvement over black and white."

There were occasional expressions of disappointment.

Structure to Be Erected at Cost of $487,500 on Present Location of Johnson Building

Studies based on population trends within the school district and existing building conditions have provided the Warren board of education with an estimated cost of $487,500 for the new elementary building to be erected on the site of the present Johnson building, Conewango and Jefferson avenues.

Lawrie and Green, Harrisburg architectural firm, advised board members at the June meeting at the high school last evening that proposed plans for the structure total 478,500 cubic feet, with an estimated cost of about $1 per cubic foot for the general contracting figure.

Action taken by the board will authorize the architects to proceed with the plans, advertising for bids by December, 1951, or at any earlier date possible.

Considerable discussion centered about the new building at this meeting, with attention devoted to stage and auditorium needs, classrooms, the use of glass bricks with vision strip instead of aluminum framework for classroom windows, and many other details.

A census of baby-to-kindergarten age groups, plotted as a large map, was studied to ascertain an over-all picture of anticipated growth and future classroom requirements.

It was also the decision of board members that the present South street building should be closed as soon as possible, this action having been taken following careful consideration of a protest petition of residents of that area.

Looking toward a seven-period school day next fall, Principals Floyd Bathurst and Herbert Harris were granted permission to begin their classes at 8:25 a. m., 10 minutes earlier than in the past.

Two items handled concerned school and Warren Public Library. With Wallace Cowden and Dr. W. M. Cashman reappointed to represent the school district on the library board for terms of one year; and permission granted the children's division of the library for a summer program that gets under way today at the McClintock building.

Members listened to a letter from Fire Chief C. A. Albaugh, reporting on his annual inspection of all buildings of the district and commending the men responsible for the "housekeeping" on their interest in keeping their premises as near perfect as is possible from a cleanliness standard.

Also presented was a brief summary from the report of Superintendent of public instruction concerning faculty ratings. These figures showed 16% of the staff holding master's degrees; 60% with bachelor's; 23% with normal school ratings or the equivalent; 75% hold college certificates; 8% normal school; 15% standard; 2% emergency qualifications. The median in total years' teaching experience was 19 years; in years in Warren, 10; median in teacher salaries, $3,300; average, $3,279.

The superintendent reported teacher ratings have been filed as required by law; also that the health of all school employees has been found satisfactory following the biennial examination.

Granted the Junior Chamber of Commerce was its request for use of school facilities in the coming community Fourth of July celebration including bleachers; Beatty Field for its feeding program; Beatty building for handling visiting bands; and Beatty lawn for the Sunday evening vespers and Monday night amateur show.

The board expressed by motion its appreciation to Station WNAE for its cooperation in the two regular school broadcasts, in-school listening and school group participation, and continuation of the program in the coming school year.

Filling vacancies in the teaching staff, new teachers elected were Jean Marie Swindler and Mary M. Curran, English instructors at Beatty; Mabel Lewis Johnson, kindergarten at Johnson; Mildred E. Ochs and David G. Olson, sixth grades at East and McClintock buildings; Betty Lou Richeberger, art at Beatty; M. Jane Carter,

Truck Weight Bill Pushes Closer to Final Senate Vote

Harrisburg, June 26—(AP)—A bill to increase legal truck weights in Pennsylvania today was pushed a little closer toward a final vote in the senate.

Sen. John C. Snowden (R-Lycoming), chairman of the senate highways committee, said he believed amendments now inserted in the measure would gain the approval of the highways department.

The bill was altered yesterday to require the unloading of single and tandem axle trucks found to be overloaded.

The measure, sponsored by Sens. Guy Robinson (R-Susquehanna) and John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland), would boost the weight limits for the most commonly used trucks from 45,000 to 60,000 pounds.

It would maintain the present top for trucks of all types at 62,000 pounds, however, and crack down on violators by making penalties more severe.

The bill was amended earlier to remove a five per cent tolerance of tandem-axle semi-trailers and to reduce from 40,000 to 36,000 pounds the weight to be permitted on the rear tandem axles.

Provided no further amendments are offered the measure could move into position for final senate passage tomorrow.

COMMIE TO STAND TRIAL IN NEW YORK

Pittsburgh, June 26—(AP)—Samuel A. Johnson, western Pennsylvania Communist leader, will be sent to New York to stand trial on charges of conspiracy to overthrow the U. S. government by force.

The order sending Johnson to New York was issued yesterday by Federal Judge Owen M. Burns, after Johnson refused to sign removal papers. Judge Burns also denied Johnson's petition for a lower bail than the present $15,000.

The western Pennsylvania leader was one of 17 Communist leaders arrested last week by FBI agents.

London Sends Large Cruiser to Iranian Port Where Tankers Are Caught in Jam

London, June 26—(AP)—Britain today ordered the Cruiser Mauritius to "proceed forthwith" to the vicinity of Abadan, the Iranian oil port where 27 tankers are caught in a jam in a dispute over payments for oil.

British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison, announcing the action in the house of commons, said the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company has ordered all its tankers to leave Abadan immediately.

Ten of the tankers are loaded with oil but have been refused clearance by Iranian authorities because the captains refused to sign receipts acknowledging payments was due Iran's new nationalized oil company.

The captains with oil aboard were told to pump it off if necessary to obtain clearance, Morrison said.

The company issued its order "with the full agreement of his majesty's government," Morrison announced. He described the situation as very serious.

Departure of all tankers presumably would mean the shutdown of the Abadan refinery, the world's largest. It is filling storage tanks because of the shipping tieup. There is enough storage capacity to keep the refinery going about a week.

Morrison said if Iran persists in her present tactics AIOC will be forced to halt operations "within a matter of days."

The Mauritius, an 8,000-ton cruiser with a normal crew of 730 men, has been at Bahrain Island in the Persian Gulf since early June.

MALIK OFFER VIEWED WITH SKEPTICISM

United Nations, N. Y., June 26—(AP)—The United States showed increasing skepticism toward the Russian cease-fire proposal today as Secretary General Trygve Lie hurried home from Europe to coordinate plans for U. N. consideration of the Malik proposals.

State Department officials questioned whether the Soviet Union's Jacob Malik had not come up merely with a political proposal designed to improve the military position of the North Korean and Chinese forces. This view became known in a memorandum distributed at supreme headquarters in Tokyo. The memorandum expressed doubt whether Malik had made his approach in good faith.

Malik proposed Saturday that the "belligerents" in Korea discuss a cease-fire and mutual withdrawal from the 38th Parallel. He mentioned no conditions, but yesterday the Chinese Communists, backing Malik's proposal, brought up the old questions of a seat for Red China in the U. N. and the fate of Formosa.

Lie interrupted his Norwegian vacation to fly here. Asked what he thought of the chances of peace, he said "That's what I'm going to find out." He conferred with British and Canadian officials in London. Lie is due in New York tomorrow.

Britain announced it was beginning talks in Washington with 15 other governments which have forces in Korea.

The South Koreans, whose republic was founded under U. N. sponsorship, officially want no cease-fire that does not reunite the entire Korean Peninsula. Gen. Ridgway visited President Syngman Rhee of South Korea today. Ridgway carried a set of instructions, supposedly from the U. S. government, but the nature of these was not made public.

In addressing the U. N. Assembly at Flushing Meadow today, the Ecuadorian president urged that the Malik proposal be explored thoroughly "to create a tranquil atmosphere that permits appreciation of the problems according to their own merits."

Washington, June 26—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today withdrawal of Communist forces behind the 38th parallel in Korea could be considered "a successful conclusion of the conflict."

He told the house foreign affairs committee the United States military aim in Korea is "to repel aggression and restore peace and security to the area."

"If this aggression is stopped, and with guarantees that it will not be resumed, then you will have repelled aggression and restored peace and security in the area."

Acheson was before the committee to support the administration's proposed $8,500,000,000 foreign aid program. His statement about Korean peace prospects came while members quizzed him closely on the cease fire proposal by Jacob Malik, Soviet delegate to the United Nations.

A 36-man venire from which the third district court jury will be selected was ordered to report to District Judge Charles Fowler at 12 noon EST.

The state has subpoenaed 20 witnesses, including A. L. (Happy) Apodaca, sheriff of Dona Ana county during the original investigation.

Celebration Notes

Tonight!

8:30 o'clock!

Committee meets!

Nothing has been heard from the Sugar Grove Fire Department as yet, but it is hoped that the boys will come down with their snappy marching unit.

The Queen committee has definite assurance that Cliff Taylor, of the Erie Times and Clair Swisher, of the Dispatch-Herald, will both be on hand for the coronation ceremonies next Saturday evening at the Municipal building, and there is pretty good prospects of Arch Bristow also being on hand. These three columnists with two officers of the Jamestown Chapter of the Jaycees, will select the queen from the five young women chosen last Saturday night.

Many of the members of the Jaycees are going to run into "baby sitter" troubles again this year, since most of them are young family men, and after all mother wants to get around and see some of the excitement too.

That popular clown team Einar Anderson and Howard Fox are not only booked for the variety show, but will be in the parade on the morning of the Fourth of July. They are a great comedy pair and will add much to the entertainment offered in both events.

Ed Honhart and his group assisting him in the old-time raft that will be a feature of the parade met last evening at the United Refinery and talked over the progress of their craft and plans for the Fourth. It is hoped that some place may be found where the float can be parked during the afternoon and evening for close inspection by those interested.

Whatever became of the old "racing carts" owned by the Watson Hose and Wetmore Hose Companies, last seen in a parade in Warren in June, 1932? How about resurrecting them for the Fourth?

DRIVER SOUGHT

City police were alerted to look for an alleged drunken driver operating an out of town taxi in the vicinity of Pennsylvania and Carver yesterday. According to witnesses, the man went over the top of Carver into Jackson avenue and was seen no more.

IN HAMOT HOSPITAL

M. G. Klinefelter, "3 Pioneer street, returned last evening from Hamot Hospital in Erie, where Mrs. Klinefelter was admitted for several days' observation and treatment. They were accompanied to Erie by Mrs. Klinefelter's sister, Mrs. G. A. Stiles, of Leeper.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

S. E. Kuhre, chairman of the park committee of the borough council, has called a meeting of the commission at War Memorial Field Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock and urges the presence of members of the council committee, as well as representatives of the V. F. W., American Legion, Warren Lodge of Elks, Marine Corps League, and any other groups interested in participating in the dedication program.

HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

Four occupants of a 1948 convertible miraculously escaped even minor injuries shortly before midnight Saturday night when the vehicle overturned and came to a rest on its top just east of Lottsville on the road to Sugar Grove. While no official police report was made of the accident, it was understood that the driver, Clarence Ellison, of Jamestown, lost control of it when the right front and rear wheels dropped off the pavement onto a rough berm. The auto then spun out of control and rolled over the edge of the highway. All four occupants emerged from the vehicle, which was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars, without a scratch.

first of next week. Better get orders which will be printed the first of next week. Better get those entries in for assignment when the orders are published.

The committee has been advised that the Warren Lodge of Odd Fellows will again sponsor the appearance of the Orphans Home band, Meadville, in the parade, and for an exhibition at War Memorial Field in the afternoon. It is understood the young musicians in this organization have come to look forward with much pleasure to this annual trip to Warren.

Hass Hoover, of Crawford county, who is presenting his wonder horse Sparkles in the Variety show, is making arrangements to have a couple of dancing horses in the parade.

Vincent Christie and his son William, 436 Pennsylvania avenue west, showed up at War Memorial Field last evening to help the Jaycees engage the "ng the bleachers to that place for erection tonight. This feature was much appreciated and may suggest similar action on the part of other men who would like to help on a worthy cause.

Jaycees Announce Eight Star Acts For Variety Show

Eight star acts have been obtained for the annual variety show as part of the Jaycee Fourth of July Celebration in Warren. The show will be seen next Monday evening, July 2nd at 7:15 in front of Beatty Junior High School and as usual no admission will be charged. One of the stellar attractions for the show will be the appearance of George Johnson of Warren who is spending the summer here after completing a concert tour throughout the southern part of the country. Mr. Johnson is well known as a pianist and will provide one of the high spots on the show.

From nearby Roystone will come Jim O'Donnell, young baritone who recently won the Hollywood Star Discovery Contest in Warren and placed fourth in the finals in Erie. Those who have heard Jim have acclaimed him one of the most promising young vocalists in this area.

The Tillotson Sisters from Sparta, Pa. will make their first appearance in Warren when they sing on the variety show. Shirley and Joan won the star discovery contest in Titusville and then went on to win second place in the finals at Erie. They have had much professional experience in nightclubs throughout this section.

Probably the most unusual act in the show will come from Cambridge Springs. Haas Hoovler will bring his trained horse to Warren for the show and promises that the beautiful animal will do everything but talk. Hoovler is a former member of the famous White Horse Troupe and will be making his first appearance in this city.

Still another "first appearance" can be claimed with the signing of the Susky Brothers. Two accordians and a bass are used in this trio to present one of the snappiest musical acts in the business. If you like your music fast and loud, you'll enjoy the Susky Brothers.

Jamestown's contribution to the variety show will be their well-known juggling team of Morgan and Crosby, who, although making juggling an avocation, are in demand throughout this section with their act titled "It's Club Time". Morgan and Crosby are pupils of the world famous Harry Lind and work alone and together with from three to six clubs.

One of the few repeat acts this year will be the appearance of Janet Gully-Towne of Tidouate. Janet was seen last year in her original impersonations and this summer, after spending the winter in college, has arranged several new numbers to be used as part of the show.

Third Annual Bowhunters Tournament Is Held on Range of the Warren Club

The Warren Archery Club held its third annual Southern Tier Bowhunters Federation Field Tournament on the local range Sunday attracting a record crowd of archers. Field archery is becoming one of the country's leading sports as shown by the steady increase of contestants at these tournaments every year.

Some of the clubs represented at this tournament were, the Bradford Archers, the Titusville Archery Club, the Clearfield Archers, the McKeesport Archery Club, the Eden Bowmen and the Altoona Archery Club.

The tournament started at 10 o'clock with the regular 28 target field shoot. This was a variation from the customary 56 targets as has been the standard practice at such shoots in the past.

Silver and gold awards went to the following contestants for the first three places in each class: Expert Class—Hans Forster, Eden, N. Y.; John Dodge, Bradford; Clem Daugherty, McKeesport.

Bowmen Class—Art Brown, Titusville; Charles Kestrow, Altoona; Sherry Adams, Warren.

Archer Class—Earl Lindh, Irwin; Fred Dvyn, Titusville; Jim Harvey, Barnsboro.

Junior Class—Donald Adams,

Warren; Geo. Lukart, Irwin; Paul Marker, Buffalo, N. Y. Ladies Class—Alice Crooks, Bradford; Thelma Williams, Clearfield; Evelyn McDonald, McKeesport.

Two novelty shoots were held in the afternoon. The first was a realistic life size deer target that made a 175 foot run on a wire. None of the archers present had ever tried the running type of deer target before. And this proved a real thrill not only for the archers but to the spectators as well, as they watched over fifty modern Robin Hoods let fly a colorful volley of arrows at the running deer.

The second novelty event was entirely new and proved to be the highlight of the days tournament. Colored lifesize Jack Rabbit targets were placed on the first fourteen target stands, simulating hunting conditions. And giving all archers a chance to take part in a rabbit hunt. Awards were presented to the first four contestants who bagged the most bunnies. They were John Dodge Bradford; Bruce McKittick, Bradford; Frank Gelotte, Warren and Harold Chance, Bradford.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public and to all archers through out this area, who would be interested in taking part in these tournaments. The next Federation field tournament will be held July 8, at Bradford, Pa.

CLARENDON

Clarendon, June 26—The Vacation Bible School, which has been conducted in the Evangelical United Brethren church, closed with a very enjoyable picnic. The school has been a very successful one, with about 60 pupils attending.

A picnic supper was enjoyed in the yard of Mrs. Elsie Bullock's home to greet the George Bullock family from Milwaukee, Wis., visiting relatives and friends in Clarendon. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Sevancik, Titusville; Mrs. Mary Knight, Frank Smith, and the Robert, Myron and Harold Bullock families.

The Thrifty Club of the EUB church met Friday evening with Mrs. Mabel Sharp. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Neva Champion, after which a business session was held. This was followed by a so-

IN MEMORY—As a memorial to 869 railroad workers who died in World Wars I and II, this narrow-gauge caboose stands in a park in Oneonta, N. Y. The names of the railroad organization's war dead are inscribed on a plaque on the caboose as a reminder of those who served their country.

ALL IN BRASS—Some 2200 musicians are giving a concert in the town square of Bayreuth, Germany, at the end of their 12th annual Congress. Despite a drizzling rain, the players sat through their program of sacred music, and the town echoed with the blare of brass for more than an hour.

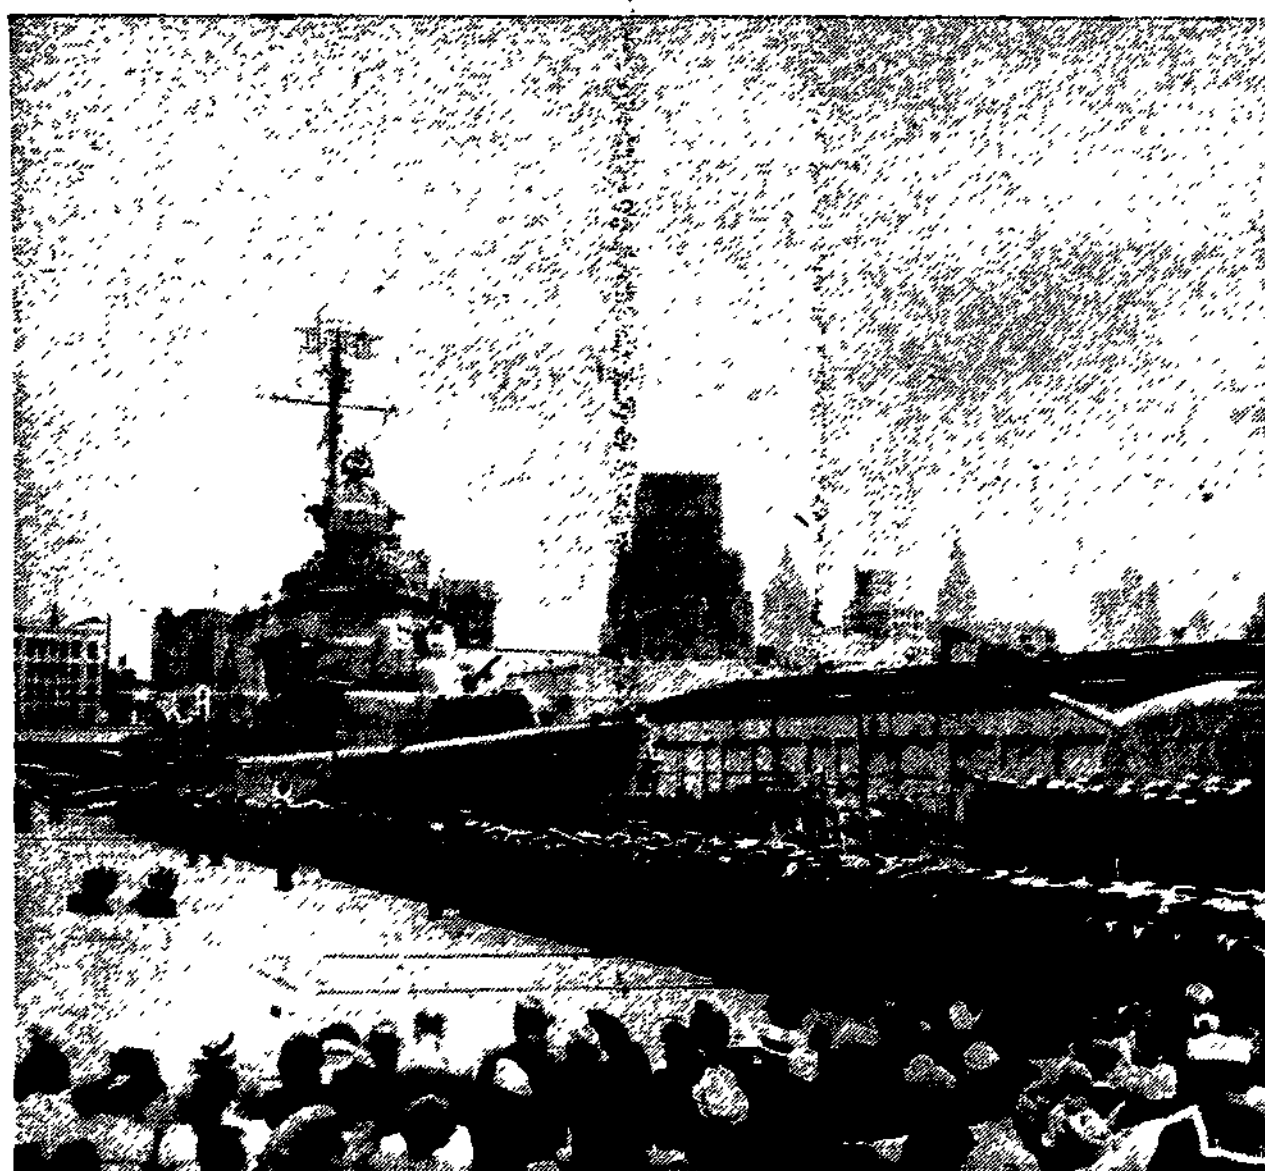

STRIKE UP THE BAND!—These Korean youngsters from an orphanage can still find some fun in life although they have all been left homeless by the fortunes of war in their country. The makeshift instruments are combined in a cacophonous symphony.

HE KNOWS NO FEAR—A 17-day-old lion cub finds itself helpless in the clutch of two-year-old Johnny Stoecker in Rome, Italy. The lion cub, born in the Rome Zoo, found its mother's paws more gentle than Johnny's eager caress, but as both grow older, there'll be much less companionship between them.

Five-year-old Carolyn attracted nationwide attention when her parents refused to allow doctors to remove an eye they had diagnosed as cancerous. She was later found to have an eye infection which could be cured.

Y., Naval Yard during which two American destroyers, the USS Woodworth and the USS Nicholson, were turned over to Italy under the terms of the Mutual Defense Assistance Program. The two ships are still manned by their American crews as Italian officers and men stand at attention.

NAMED FOR HER—Metropolitan Opera star Helen Traubel poses in New York with some new pink hybrid tea roses which have been named for her. The roses were chosen for the highest honor of the flower world, the All-American Rose award for 1952, and Miss Traubel's name given to them.

Ray was killed recently in an airplane accident. Ralph, who has vowed to contribute his brother's share to Ray's two teen-age daughters until they are 21, is shown following the tradition by going about his spectacular business atop St. Mark's Lutheran Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Gustav Erickson, pastor of Lander Methodist church, with the Rev. Ernest L. Miller, local pastor, assisting.

Mrs. Charles Titchner, Russell, played traditional wedding airs for a service, which was read before an altar banked with rhododendron foliage and large baskets of white gladioli and peonies, flanked by candelabra holding white flowers.

Mary Jean Masci Becomes the Bride of Patrick Valone in St. Joseph's Church

Mary Jean Masci, daughter of Mrs. Rose Masci, and Patrick Valone, son of Baptista Valone, Clarendon, were married in a beautiful ceremony Saturday morning, June 23, at nine o'clock in St. Joseph's church, the Rev. Father Arthur Leon officiating.

The main altar was decorated with huge baskets of white gladioli, pompons and asters, and large green palms were placed on either side. Wedding music was played by the organist, Mrs. Donald Edinger, and James O'Donnell, Sheffield, sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother," "Ave Maria," "O Panis Angelicus" and "O Lord, I Am Not Worthy."

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Thomas Musante, wore a gown of white satin, fashioned with a lace yoke, Peter pan collar and full skirt which ended in a long train. Her tulle veil fell from a small lace turban with satin brim and a circle of orange blossoms. She carried a single orchid on a white prayer book.

Catherine Musante was maid of honor. Her dress was pale pink marquisette with a net Juliet cap covered with dainty pink flowers, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses. The Rev. John Z. Andree performed the single ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white carnations, larkspur, miniature pompons, palms and candelabra. Traditional wedding music was played by the church organist, Gladys Judd, and Marjorie Goldsmith, Wichita, Kans., sang "My World," "O Promise Me" and "Seal Us, O Holy Spirit."

Akeley WSCS Has Very Busy Session

The June meeting of the Akeley Methodist WSCS was held at the home of Eleanor Wilcox, with Fern Way as co-hostess. Dinner was served to 32.

The president, Grace Granquist, gave the call to worship on the subject, "We Would See Jesus, The Great Physician." Hymns were sung, and Rose Bradley, secretary of spiritual life, read the scripture and meditations.

Eighteen members responded to roll call, plus three visitors. Ora Miller, recording secretary, read the minutes, and reports were given by Josephine Lindquist, missionary treasurer, and Mable Larson reported for Christie Lindmark, treasurer of local funds. The "galloping tea" held recently at the Clyde Arthur home, netted $6.85. Sharp Drop Shown In Traffic Deaths

Showing a sharp drop in 1950, traffic deaths during the first four months of 1951 have increased 25 over those of last year, according to the Bureau of Safety of the Department of Highways, Harrisburg.

During April of this year, an increase of 17 traffic deaths was shown with 20 counties reporting an increase over last year. Fayette and Cambria counties lead with increases of six over 1950. Lancaster county shows the largest decrease, six under 1950.

In the immediate area, Warren county shows an increase of one for the first four months of 1951. McKean county shows a decrease of four, Erie county an increase of one, Crawford county an increase of one, Venango county a decrease of two, Forest county has no deaths for either year, Elk county shows an increase of three.

Traffic deaths on the Pennsylvania Turnpike are not carried in the rural or state totals, but show an increase of nine for the first four months of 1951.

As always, excessive speed is given as the greatest single cause of traffic deaths. Only 36% of all reported accidents occur in rural areas, yet these account for 62% of traffic deaths. The lesson is clear.

Chapter 18

JIGGER read the exercise. It was a composition done in a quasi-confessional vein; poetic, elegantly overphrased, unduly overwritten. It was filled with such lines as "He whose brush was to be his spear" "I believed, entrusting him my fears, only to watch him grow weaker, as I grew weak..." Jigger looked up. "A trifle overdone, but acute enough. In her way, she caught Arents."

"You agree that it was the painter?"

"Unquestionably," Jigger turned to the pile of manuscripts, and began to re-write the photograph rapidly. But soon, as his head began to buzz and his eyes ached and burned, he read more slowly, absorbing, what he read even more slowly. The exercises, as many as he could read, had a nagging quality, a shrill childishness. He knew the chronology of these writings. Find me those that were submitted after the piece about Arents: those exercises that were his very last; writings that might bring her biography up to the time of murder."

Scott fumbled through the pile, extracting some sheets and passing them to Jigger.

"I believe that is all."

There were six sheets. Jigger read them, his eyes roaming from page to page, back and forth, comparing, seeking a unity of development of story, an orderly arrangement of sequences in time.

WRIGHTSVILLE

Wrightsville, June 26—Mrs. Betty Wolfe was hostess for the regular meeting of Berea Luther League Friday evening, when the date for the annual Confirmand Reunion was set for Sunday, July 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Danielson have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nelson, Harbor Creek, along with other members of the Nelson family.

These exercises were, in effect, a chart marking the violent thrashings of biology. The first five amounted to a love story; an ecstatic catalogue of rare moments, discovery, trysts. The sixth essay declined from the giddy level of the others, like a discord in a symphony. Here was fear, the recoiling from the less than perfect, the anguish of abandonment. Susan Hunter had found another love after Arents, a truer love, and with it greater torment.

Jigger went to a window quietly and stared out over a courtyard. Scott's cough was a pin dropping in vast spaces; he jerked to a realization of Scott at his elbow.

"You were moved," Scott said. "She ran from Arents into another love affair," Jigger said. "That's pretty clear from those scripts."

Scott nodded, and Jigger said, "Overboard, head over heels. And scared it wouldn't last. Get that reaction too?"

"Yes, a young girl in love, desperately in love."

The speech had an unexpected softness and subtlety. Jigger looked at Scott curiously. Funny little man, he thought; funny if Scott lived secretly in some lyrical dream-world. What an idea! He said to staid little people grown old? How much of the fervor and the fever died, and how much remained in hiding?

"Anyhow, there was a lover. And quite a guy too, to win the total surrender those essays suggest. Jigger, what an idea! He was seeking the private chambers of his thinking. He had to be quiet a guy to her. He had to be the antithesis of Arents, and an anachronism, as strong a man as she was weak a woman."

Scott said, "Could such a man, if he exists, murder her?"

After a long interval, Jigger said, "I'll have to duck answering that question, Professor."

A KNOT of pedestrians passed, and Red was visible in the doorway one building away from La Petite Bake Shop. Jigger crossed the street, with Red watching his approach.

"Any action yet?" Jigger asked. "My aching back! Arents has been in and out every half hour; even his shadow's begun to wobble from fatigue."

"Where does he go?" "Everywhere, and nowhere. Coffee, more coffee, the hardware store, a music shop, more coffee. All around the village in a dead heat. The beard doesn't just walk; he sprinks like a purse snatcher."

A gate creaked, then slammed noisily. Red pulled Jigger into the doorway, whispering, "The ambulatory beard's out for his constitutional again."

It was Arents, carrying a large, framed painting. Oddly gotten-up, his hair in all directions, with the dye in his beard one with the red and his long legs flailing energetically, Arents was the last Bohemian, a classical synthesis of every Bohemian before him.

Red hurried along beside Jigger. "Bet it's a hockshop this stop. The beard looks intent on more coffee money."

After some blocks, Arents turned up Greenwich Avenue. A moment later, he entered a store. The window read: BAROQUE ART GALLERY, EXHIBITIONS. Smaller lettering announced, "Framing Done on Premises."

Jigger held his cigarette pack out to Red. "You keep in the background, Red. I'll have another go at the beard when he comes out."

"Get anything on Arents at Professor Scott's?"

"Just a phrase," Jigger declared. "He whose brush was to be a spear."

Red chuckled, "Beard-pulling mixed up with sense memory, huh?"

Jigger nodded. "The girl had Arents' number, before moving on to the next fellow."

"There was a next fellow then?"

"Yes. And a whopping love affair, all wrapped up in the language of a motion picture advertisement." Jigger touched Red warningly. Arents was coming out of the store-gallery, empty-handed Jigger said, "Tail Arents, if I signal you to. And please, Red, nothing half-hearted. Arents is our one lead to the next fellow."

Jigger said dubiously, "By what logic?"

"Man's profound conceit. Show me a guy who doesn't show curiosity about his successor, and I'll show you a eunuch."

Red chuckled, and Jigger hurried to accost Arents.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Manfrey, of 1120 Pennsylvania avenue, west, were pleasantly surprised this morning at 7:40 o'clock when their son, Cpl. Eugene Manfrey telephoned them from Koto, Japan, where he is serving with a medical unit at an army hospital. He has been overseas for the past 2 1/2 years. He talked for three minutes, and family members said they could hear him very plainly. The Manfreys have three other sons in the service. Joseph is with a Navy unit in California; Gene is serving with the Air Corps at Fort Dix, N. J.; and Samuel is a cook at Camp Atterbury, Ind., and recently was promoted from corporal to sergeant.

Lt. Donald Sandstrom, with Mrs. Sandstrom and their daughter, are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Sandstrom, 16 Branch street. Lt. Sandstrom is stationed at Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, N. Y., and is en route to Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, to attend the Adjutant General School for the next three months. His family intends to remain here for the summer.

David Culbertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. LaMonte Culbertson, Oneida avenue, who enlisted in the U. S. Navy last week, was in Buffalo Monday for his physical examination, after which he was sent to the Great Lakes Naval Training Center for his eleven weeks basic.

SOUND SHUTOUT BID CONFUSES OPPONENTS

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

A sound shutout bid makes life difficult for your opponents even though they are very well aware of what you are doing. If their strength is fairly equally divided, as is often the case, each may fear that the other has a very weak hand; and each may therefore fail to take action.

That is exactly what happened in the hand shown today. Sam Stayman held the South cards in an important team match. His bid of three no-trump was known to be a gambling bid, based on a long suit and a side entry or two.

Poor West was up against it. His broken spade suit and his only moderately strong hand were not enough to spur him to action. He passed, fearing that his partner (who had already passed), might have a pretty poor hand.

East could do nothing when his turn came. He had passed originally and could hardly barge out at the level of four. He knew his partner had something or other, but he felt he could not start trying to find a fit if his partner had been unable to act independently. West led the seven of spades, and Stayman rolled in the first nine tricks with the king of spades and eight clubs. Needless to say, great was the moaning and groaning thereat. During the play East and West realized what they had been talked out of.

In the other room the South player opened with a modest bid of one club. The opponents got to six spades, and South finally passed in the hope of setting them. Needless to say, six spades was fulfilled with ease. In fact, all thirteen tricks were won.

The score for the slam was 1460 points. In the first room a score of 400 points was made on the North-South cards. Hence the Stayman team won 1860 points on this one hand alone.

Incidentally, I should point out that a bid of three no-trump is sound on a long suit and a prayer only if you have another way to show a balanced hand of tremendous power. Stayman and his team-mates have such a method. They open with two clubs and make a jump rebid in no-trump. It works out well, but should be used only by experts in partnerships of long standing.

Uncertain Month For State Assembly

Harrisburg, June 26—(P)—July will be a month of uncertainties for the general assembly. The question of whether to meet next week, with Independence Day coming on Wednesday, still is undecided.

Speaker Herbert F. Sorg (R-Elk) said the House would not meet that week but Sen. John M. Walker (R-Allegheny), Republican floor leader in the senate, said the upper chamber is still undecided.

Even if the assembly took a week off, Walker said, it would face the possibility of returning for one week and then going out again.

"The week of July 16 is pre-election week and after that comes the week of the primary elections," said Walker. "Many legislators will want to take off."

Sorg, however, held that his chamber will continue sessions right through the weeks of July 16 and 23.

"We're feeling our way along," he added, "but we'll meet until something breaks in the senate."

Walker pointed up the possibility of another idle week beginning July 30 by asserting that a state Veterans of Foreign Wars convention in Harrisburg might cause another shutdown because of lack of hotel rooms.

ing Reds. The front was a mixture of blazing fights and quiet.

U. N. patrols bumped into Communist barbed wire entanglements on the east-central front. "The Reds definitely are building a heavy defense, probably parallel to our lines," an officer said.

The Communist air force showed new aggressive tendencies in its strikes at bombing superforts. Allied air forces reported no B-29s were damaged in one attack. But it did not say what happened to them in the second strike.

It was in this last battle that a red nosed MIG-15 was shot down. Twelve Red jets attacked the B-29s and in turn were hit by 24 U. S. Sabre jets. After a brief dog fight, surviving Reds streaked for the Manchurian border.

Forty MIG's and 29 Sabre jets were involved in an afternoon air battle. The evening summary of the air war gave no details.

Payonnet fighting raged in the rolling hills. Fire bombing planes swooped in close to the lines and blasted Chinese attackers.

For the 131st consecutive day U. N. warships bombarded Wonsan, east coast port and transport center.

Police said Polk told them he had planned to kill Mrs. Hotchkiss, but that his gun, a .22 rifle, jammed when he tried to pull the trigger.

An examination of the gun, police said, showed it had in fact jammed.

The hospital said Mrs. Hotchkiss, who was hysterical, had severe bruises on her neck and shoulders.

The attractive blonde told doctors the two men had choked and strangled her to keep her from crying out.

The governor warned that if the legislature adjourns without providing sufficient money, non-preferred projects would have to go under the axe first. These, according to law, he said, would include such services as state-aided hospitals, colleges, universities, medical schools, nurses' training, cancer research, education of veterans' orphans, homes for the aged, for children, and other, Independence Mall, Philadelphia; Point Park, Pittsburgh, and many others.

At a dinner at six o'clock at the Kalfbus Rod & Gun Club he will be presented with a 50-year plaque. I'M THINKING OF BUYING STOCK... WHAT'S MY FIRST STEP?

You'll naturally want advice... the best you can get.

Where do I get it? One sure place is in an office of a member firm of the New York Stock Exchange.

How will they help me? By talking over with you what you want to do and how to do it. The benefit of their experience is yours for the asking.

Can I talk in confidence? Yes. Your problem is a personal one... it involves your hard-earned cash... your broker will respect those facts.

Will he recommend a particular stock? Of course, if you ask for his professional opinion. His recommendation... whether a stock with a long dividend record, or stock in an expanding company promising greater returns... will depend on what you want to accomplish and the degree of risk you are willing to assume.

How much does all this service cost? Not one cent... whether you're thinking of buying 10 shares, 27, 50 or 100 shares.

What will my broker charge me if I do buy a stock? His commission, on the average, runs around one per cent of the purchase price. On very small orders ($100 or less) the commission may be six per cent; on larger orders it may be as small as one-fifth of one per cent.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT FACES ARCHBISHOP MEASURE PROVIDING CURE CENTERS SET UP

Budapest, Hungary, June 26—(P)—Prosecutor Gyula Alapi demanded the "severest punishment," meaning death, for Roman Catholic Archbishop Jozsef Groesz and his eight companions today and the archbishop threw himself on the mercy of the court in a final statement of repentance.

"I declare I repent and regret what I did," said the sombre 64-year-old archbishop, who confessed at his trial that he conspired to overthrow the Communist government by arms and with American help.

All nine defendants—five of them Roman Catholic churchmen—made trial confessions of their part in the alleged conspiracy, and seven made use of their right to make a "final statement" today.

The court of two judges and three laymen will hand down the sentences Thursday.

SEGREGATION TO END IN BALTIMORE SOON

Baltimore, June 26—(P)—Racial segregation at Baltimore's four municipal golf courses will end July 10 and negroes and whites will be permitted to compete with one another in tennis matches and other athletic events under certain condition.

The Park board voted yesterday to maintain segregated tennis courts but to set aside a number of courts for mixed play.

It also voted to continue segregation at city playgrounds but to permit "supervised mixed play on some playgrounds."

LaMotta and Murphy to Meet In Slam-Bang Ring Battle

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Jake LaMotta and Irish Bob Murphy are scheduled to fight 12 rounds at Yankee Stadium, June 27, catch-as-catch-can and with no holds barred.

Because LaMotta is a rough hombre in the more important spots and Murphy is a red-headed Irishman who believes he can lick anyone in the house, the blood-letting in the Bronx has the big town somewhat excited.

LaMotta is not at as much disadvantage as the average orthodox boxer against a southpaw because the Bronx Bull himself is a converted left-hander. Yet the one southpaw he tackled, Bert Lytell, the Fresno Chocolate Kid, stirred up trouble six years ago in Boston.

Had Murphy turned around while breaking in, the Flagler, Colo., ex-gob would not have so much difficulty obtaining cracks at the man on top. Murphy—real name Edwin Lee O'Connelly—thought of it, and tried, but the co-ordination wasn't there.

MURPHY is three inches taller, his reach is five-and-a-quarter inches longer. Normally, that would give a pugilist a bulge, but this is to be a body belting bing. Both wield knives inside. LaMotta expects to beat Murphy with left hooks to the body, which is the way Harry Matthews snapped the South Pacific veteran's knockout string at 13 in a Garden thriller last March 2.

Murphy never stops punching, gives you a full three minutes and the opponent the full treatment. LaMotta fights in spurts. Murphy considers himself cheated when the other guy misses. The awkwardly clever LaMotta is harder to hit than it appears.

One school has an idea that LaMotta will go better than Murphy in the later rounds. The other has Murphy romping if he is not badly hurt in seven or eight.

Murphy has made most of his 63 starts tough on himself, but he is a year younger and fresher. LaMotta has been fighting four years longer, has had 33 more fights, and with the exception of Harry Matthews, has been in battleships with vastly superior opponents.

Jake LaMotta may lick Irish Bob Murphy, but the Bronx Bull will know he has been in a fight.

33rd PGA Tourney Starts Tomorrow At Oakmont Course

Oakmont, June 28—(P)—A golfer who has strong legs and an accurate eye for long putts should win the 1951 professional golfers association championship. That's the consensus of the experts who have tested the hilly fairways and the harrowed and harrowing traps at the Oakmont country club in preparation for the 33rd PGA tournament, which starts tomorrow.

Oakmont has a horrendous reputation, based largely on scores in the two open championships played here years ago. Back in 1927 Tommy Armour and "Light House" Haily Cooper tied with scores of 301 for 72 holes and amount on the playoff with a 76 to Cooper's 79. In 1935 home-bred Sam Parks, Jr., was the only golfer under 300 for the route, winning with 289.

Bobby Jones and the late Emil Loeffler, Oakmont's greenskeeper, negotiated the course with 68 s to share the competitive record. Willie MacFarlane set the 72-hole record of 294, six over par.

The 6,882 yard course has a par of 37-35-72. In spite of those figures, no less an authority than Gene Sarazen, who has played in every PGA championship but two since 1920, calls it "the finest course in the world." And home pro Lew Worsham, who should know as much about the course as anybody, figures a 36-hole score of 141 to 143 should win the PGA qualifying medal.

Worsham picked Australian-born Jim Ferrier, the 1947 PGA champion, Lloyd Mangrum, the slick-swinging veteran from Niles, Ill., and Jackie Burke, of Houston, Tex., as the three whose games are best suited to scoring on this course.

"And Sammy Snead always is hot in the PGA," he added. Snead won the title in 1942 and again in 1949.

Methodists Win Softball Battle

First Methodists edged the Lutherans, 12-11, in a free-scoring Y-Church Softball League scrap at Bealy field last night. The Methodists had 16 hits, while the losers had nine. A three-run rally in the ninth inning enabled the Methodists to come from behind to win.

Batters were Don Pratt and Calvin for the Lutherans and Phil, John and Leuthold for the Methodists.

WORLD'S LARGEST BLIMP IS NAVY'S SNORKEL-HUNTER—This is the Navy's new ZPN, a 324-foot blimp built by Goodyear Aircraft at Akron, O. It is the world's largest non-rigid airship and the Navy's answer to any future menace from enemy Snorkel submarines. Type boxes point out characteristics of the new craft, just unveiled at Akron. Most valued asset is its ability to hover almost motionless over sub-infested waters or pace the low speeds of surface or undersea ships.

PONY LEAGUE

By The Associated Press
James... Bert Hornell to grab back the lead in the Class D PONY Baseball League last night, but a boy from Olsen's Oles pulled off the best feat of the night's play.

Ted Morris, pitching his second game for the Oles, made it his second shutout by hitting a 6-0 no-hitter against the Hamilton Cardinals.

Every other shutout was June 19 when he blanked Hornell's Dodgers, one of the hottest teams in the league 9-0. He had a string of 20 consecutive men retired in order last night after he allowed a walk in the second. Another walk in the fourth broke up the put-out string.

Jamestown's Falcons turned the tables on Hornell, 2-1. Sunday night, the Falcons won 6-2, to take over the league lead, but the Falcons' one run edge last night put Jamestown back on top by 18 percentage points, 638 to 630.

In other games last night Bradford beat Batavia, 2-2, in the first of a doubleheader, and 10-5 in the nightcap to sweep the ball. The Wells-Corning game was not to the Corning Athletics 12-12, in a high scoring event that was won in the last of the ninth.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC

The New Castle City moved into a third place Middle Atlantic League tie with Lockport last night when they beat the Locks, 6-3.

Chet Butler led the Citizens' victory with a three-run triple in the 10th inning.

The Erie Sailors beat second place Niagara Falls 5-1 as Bob Weaver lifted a one-hit ball game to chalk up his seventh win of the season against 3 defeats.

The Falls club got their hit in the eighth inning when Art Sabulsky ripped out a triple and then scored on an infield out. The win gives Erie an 11½ game league lead.

Jack Beyer added the Erie cause with a home run in the fourth with none on. He also hit a triple and a single.

Oil City and Butler split a double-header. Butler won the first game 17-6 and Oil City captured the second 5-4 in 10 innings. The Oilers tied the game in the ninth, but Oil City won the winning run over an error in the 10th.

Warren Y. M. C. A. Is Represented at Cleveland Meeting

Nearly 7,000 representatives of YMCAs from 47 countries around the world, including Dan Walton and A. E. Johnson, local general secretary and treasurer, were in Cleveland, O., last weekend to attend the centennial convention of the International YMCA of North America.

Sessions were held in the Cleveland Auditorium, with attendance so great that many of the meetings originally scheduled for smaller halls had to be transferred to the auditorium which seats 12,000 persons.

The theme was "Faith For the Future," and while part of the sessions were spent in historical reminiscence, a larger part of the addresses and discussion centered around plans for the second century of service the YMCA is planning to give throughout the world.

One of the highlights came Friday evening when following a very impressive and informative pageant, Dr. John R. Mott was presented and received the greatest ovation given anyone at the conference. He addressed the convention briefly on the subject "Retrospect and Prospect," suggesting that "before every great advance in the progress of the world was a period of great testing—and that, being now in this testing period we could look forward to great advances in the near future." He said "he had a great faith that the YMCA would fulfill its mission through the second century even more successfully than during the one just closed."

Other nationally known speakers addressing the convention included Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, minister, Christ Methodist church, New York City; Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, of United Nations fame; Paul G. Hoffman, executive director of the Ford Foundation; and Hon. Paul H. Douglas, United States senator from Illinois.

Mr. Johnson, who represented the local "Y" with Dan Walton, stayed in Cleveland for a few days visit with his son, Gerald Johnson.

On his return trip, Mr. Walton visited the Warren boys at Camp Sherwin on Lake Erie, where they were just getting settled in that attractive camp for their summer fun under the leadership of Jim Hengst, as camp director, and Bill Mulvey, in charge of the swimming and water-front activities.

GI JOE, 1775 MODEL—This rare engraving, recently brought to this country from Europe, is believed to be one of the first pictures ever made of a soldier of the Continental Army. By the German engraver Johann Martin Will, it shows a soldier in the dress of the companies authorized by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1775—the birth of the U. S. Army. A legend with the engraving says, in part: "His clothing is made of coarse linen, he has a long musket and bayonet and is of robust health and endurance."
